- 3. Integrating opportunities with learning partners

1. Optimizing school-based projects for student learning

Goal and Strategies		Success Criteria /	Section / Team /	Feedback
落實初中及試行高 中校本的德育核心 價值,為各級的德 育、生活教育、個 人及群體紀律、生 命成長訂定目標。	To complete syllabus To propose a 4-year development plan, meeting EDB requirement.	Evaluation Mode Teachers' feedback	Teacher Guidance, Discipline, Class teachers, liberal studies panel heads Teacher-in-charge: Ms Tse KM, Ms Lo WM	A three-year development plan was proposed, meeting EDB's latest requirement. Weekly lessons during morning assembly, campus TV, regular moral/civic education and life education lessons have been implemented in these three years following the plan. The network between moral/civic/life education has been strengthened and an in-depth cooperation in all aspects will be proceeded in the next cycle.
				Service for school was introduced this year for students with minor behavioural issues. Besides, prefect warning system was introduced this year to strengthen prefects' responsibility and students' awareness. Responses from teachers and students were positive.
落實分享中華文化學習心得。	To conduct monthly teacher-student co- sharing morning assembly To conduct 5-minute teachers' sharing at each staff meeting To streamline (revise) existing tasks	- Annual report - Student video presentations (school gala / history gallery)	Chinese heritage development team Teachers-in-charge: Ms Or FL	Mini lectures during morning assemblies were conducted by teachers and/or students. Preparation was efficiently done for the mini-lectures, students in the morning assemblies were mostly dismissed on time. The mini-lectures on Cantonese word origins were conducted three times by Mr Ting during three staff meetings, to allow teachers Chinese heritage input from another angle.
增加教師團隊及同學對學校的歸屬 感。	To relate common strengthening messages from teachers to students	ESDA figures	Class teachers, class representatives	According to the ESDA figures collected in the latest two years, teacher morale was satisfactory. Teachers

To re-consider time table needs → more after school time for student activities	improved (E- platform for School Development and Accountability)	Teacher-in-charge: Mr Chiu KC	agreed the direction of development of the school and were working in harmony. However, there is a 10 percent decline in job satisfaction that is worthy of concerns.
			There is a rise respectively in ESDA items related to students' impression towards school ambience in all aspects. The most obvious increase among the items is the one "School can respond to students' opinions actively", with a rise of 10%.

2. Streamlining academic concerns for future development

Goal and Strategies		Success Criteria /	Section / Team /

檢討本三年計劃學 科成功指標,及優 異成績目標。	To streamline learning targets; project results; prepare 3-year plan	Steady increase in degree course offers, and beyond; steady decrease in homework delinquent.	Careers, academic affairs	The final number of degree courses offered is still pending, while the number of conditional offers in Non-JUPAS degree courses obtained is 151, with ~80% (133 out of 167) S6 students obtaining degree course conditional offers before HKDSE. Target met.
	To strengthen S3 lessons in English	ESDA figures improved	Teacher-in-charge: Mr Kwan CK	Some subjects used to be taught in Chinese in Senior form will change to EMI next year. Extra English learning materials for those subjects (such as T&L) have been supplied to students in S3 to strengthen their learning in English. In fact, The ESDA figure shows that the majority of students

完成外評(2008)改進要求。	To upgrade language atmosphere To strengthening staff development mechanism To enhance student-centred learning	ESDA figures improved MOI inspection comments (no inspection this year)	Teacher-in-charge: Ms Lee MP	agreed that they could respond to teachers' questions in English during lessons in general. Language policies on campus were observed, confirmed by teachers and students in ESDA figures: more than 70% agreed language policies were enforced through various channels. ESDA figures were disseminated to dept concerned and were reported in staff meeting. Each dept was asked to observe P-I-E in cycles for improvement. School-based items showed that 70% of teachers and students agreed that leadership skills were trained; half agreed that students self-learned well. Cross-KLA learning was improved; 70% teachers agreed that cross-KLA class observation perfected teaching methodologies and professional exchanges.
同學能完成自訂的 學習目標,並檢討 得失,更進一步。	To implement monthly class teacher time To join city-wide reading activity	Teachers and students' feedback	Class teachers Reading team	The whole level monthly class teacher time was rare. The idea will be carried on next year. The whole school joined the city-wide reading activity "Create our own records" organized by the SCOLAR in

among students	Teachers and students showed concerns in the ESDA survey for the items about whether these schemes can enhance their reading / study interests, abilities and attitudes.

3. Integrating opportunities with learning partners

以校為本,薪火相 傳	To implement class representative team To tryout ECA April handovers To strengthen idea of service to school from junior form (ECA→House→ prefect team/student union→alumni association)	Teachers' feedback	Class teachers, student affairs section Teacher-in-charge: Mr Cheung WC	Both the "class representative team" and "ECA April handovers" schemes have been successfully and smoothly implemented. The "April handovers" scheme will be applied to Houses and Student Union within a two-year time. Many activities have been organized this year to train students' leadership skills such as planning, communication, collaboration and responsibility. Teachers tried out the idea of "step up" scheme zealously in composing the committees for ECA, houses and student union. The outcome so far is good according to teachers' feedback.
培養綠色生活。	To join a city-wide green campaign every term To practise green concept on campus	Teachers' feedback	Teacher-in-charge: Mr Kong PK	"No-air conditioning day" was held on 27/9/2012. The idea of environmental protection was promoted as all students reflected on energy-saving more thoroughly.

Achievements of major concerns

Optimizing school-based projects for student learning	Streamlining academic concerns for future development	Integrating opportunities with learning partners
The cross-KLA activities were duly conducted and earned satisfactory results. Future tasks should aim at streamlining and allowing more student-centred	Co-teaching in English and LS at S3 was largely welcomed by teachers; this prepared students well for S4 EMI subjects.	Teachers are resourceful and obtained different community resources to enrich student learning (funding and visit opportunities).
activities. Senior students' OLE journal entries reflected solid learning points, language proficiency improved as well.	Literature materials were used in junior form to enhance student language input for future learning. Same sets of materials are recycled.	Students cooperated well in all whole-school activities: green days, reading day, school gala, etc. School spirit was well demonstrated during the activity.
Overseas study tours put textbook knowledge to test, and promoted student leadership skills.	Various reading activities, including the use of Landscape , the school magazine, enhance reading experience.	Parents' involvement in school administration work is budding.

Reflections on major concerns

Optimizing school-based projects for student learning	Streamlining academic concerns for future development	Integrating opportunities with learning partners
The cross-KLA activities seemed to be charged by a few teachers who taught more than one subject. It will be more effective if other teachers are involved in the future.	Co-teaching could be done for practical needs, but also because of ample staffing. Teachers must learn to take charge of full class for various activities for the staff number will go down soon.	Community resources came with much paperwork which took up teachers' time. Follow-up work on getting student proof for subsidies was also time-consuming.
The link between the journal entries and the final SLP and JUPAS essay is still weak for S4 and S5 students do not see the immediate needs. Learning attitudes should be strengthened.	Teachers in the same dept teach modules of their expertise, rather than seeing the curriculum as a whole. Teachers of the same dept should have one set agreed modules for all to follow.	Objectives of whole school activities did not sink in well for students need to carry the same spirit after the activities. Parents' involvement in school work might reach
The true test for overseas learning would take place in S5 grand tour (2013-14). Local exchanges should be explored as well.	Students still consider reading of any materials suggested by school exam-oriented, rather than for personal pleasure.	the plateau soon for different constraints.

Future Plan

The three-year plan (2010-13) was completed; the new cycle will build on strength for staff to develop further (see 2013-16 development plan). Parents and teachers also treasure participation in administration and policy decision process; the cross curriculum network was budding well, but teachers must see it as a resource-saving without sacrificing learning opportunities, rather than devising new projects which consume more time on all parties.

A complete senior management team with 5 principals, advised by the school administration committee, will help lead the development more efficiently. Major concerns for the following year are advanced version for the present:

- 1. Exploring opportunities for student learning
- 2. Streamlining academic concerns for future development
- 3. Re-inventing parents' role in education
